INTRODUCTION

•AtliQ Hardware, a prominent manufacturer and distributor of computer peripherals, faced substantial losses in the Latin American market due to outdated analytics practices.

•This presentation offers real-time insights across key departments, empowering data-driven decision-making and enhancing overall business performance.

Analyzing the Business Challenge

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Key Challenges Identified

•AtliQ, a rapidly growing player in the electronic goods market, faced challenges in making data-driven decisions, which contributed to losses in the Latin American region.

•Business decisions were often based on assumptions and survey data rather than concrete insights.

•The company primarily used Excel for analysis, which proved inadequate as operations scaled.

•Meanwhile, competitors like Dell gained an edge by leveraging data analytics to understand customer demographics, consumption patterns, and income levels.

•To remain competitive, AtliQ has established a dedicated data analytics team to ensure transparency and enable strategic, insight driven decision-making.

•This project aims to harness the power of data analytics to generate actionable business insights and support AtliQ's continued growth.

•Data Collection: Integrated MySQL databases (gdb041, gdb056) along with three Excel files- Target, Market Share, and Operational Expense into Power BI for analysis.

•Data Preparation: Used Power Query Editor to clean, transform, and shape the raw data for analysis.

•Data modelling: Established relationships between tables through the Model View to ensure accurate data flow and analysis.

•Analytical Layer: Utilized DAX formulas to create calculated measures and KPIs, providing deeper business insights.

•Visualization: Designed interactive and user-friendly dashboards in Power BI to uncover trends and support informed decision-making.
